
"FiNC" App's Huge Renewal, Reaching 9 Million Downloads! Automatically Record 15 Key Nutrients in Addition to the 3 Major Nutrients, such as Vitamins and Dietary Fiber with Meal Recording Over 400 Items on the Food Image Recognition Feature

FiNC Technologies Inc. (headquarters: Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo, CEO: Mitsunori Nanno, referred to as "FiNC"), the healthtech venture that specializes in preventative healthcare and AI, introduced a huge renewal to their healthcare/fitness app "FiNC®", which recently reached 9 million downloads, with the goal of increasing app usability.

In this renewal, a dashboard has been added to show key lifelog information as soon as users open the app, such as daily steps, calories burned and calorie intake. It also gives users tips on how to use the FiNC app, including how to effectively record their lifestyle, earn points, and get great deals on health/beauty products on the FiNC Mall.

◆About the Renewal

When investigating how the FiNC app is being used through user surveys and customer feedback, it was found that many long-time users were using the lifelog features. There was feedback about the steps, weight, sleep, meal, and period lifelog features, which allow users to effortlessly record their lifestyle in the one app. The renewal aims to increase app usability based on this recent user feedback.

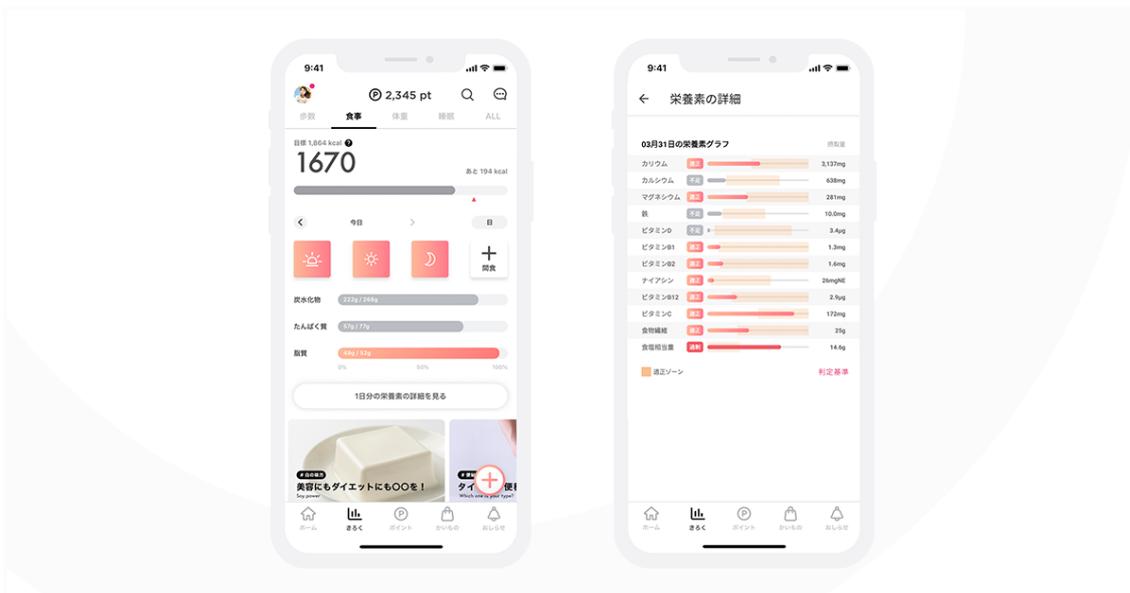

◆What Has Changed

1. Steps and Meal Logging on the Home Screen

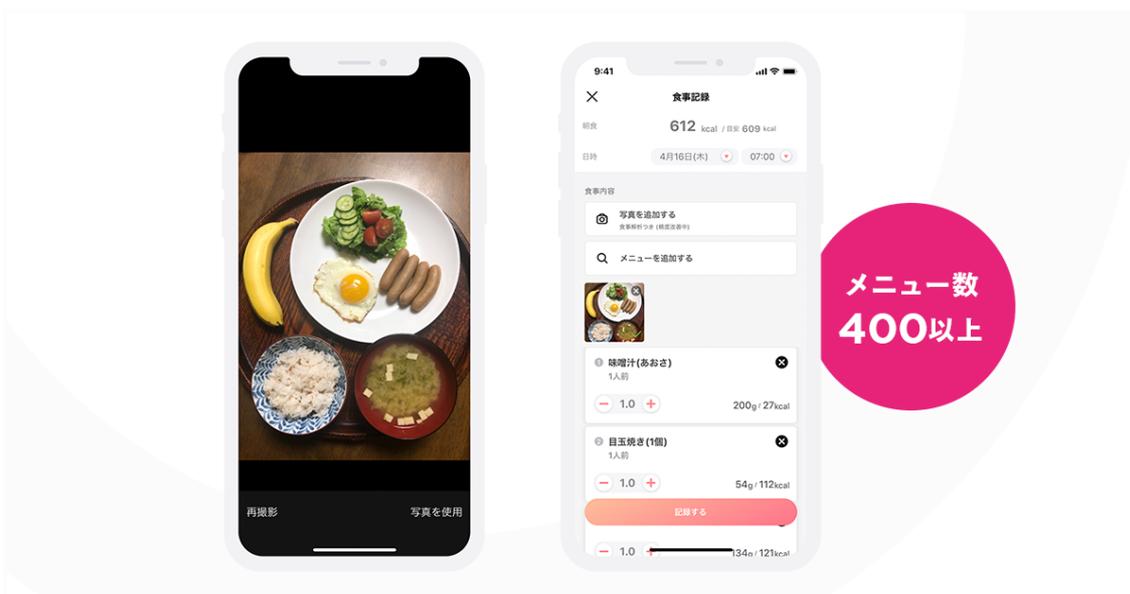

With the steps and meal logging dashboard at the top of the home screen, users can instantly check their approximate calories burned and calorie intake each day. Users can also easily see how many more points they can earn that day. This helps users track their lifestyle, earn points, and get great deals on health/beauty goods on the FiNC Mall.

2. Automatically Record 15 Key Nutrients with Meal Logging

The meal recording feature now automatically records 15 key nutrients^{*1} in addition to the 3 major nutrients, such as vitamins and dietary fiber. It also shows users their daily calories and nutrients, and whether their total daily intake of each nutrient is sufficient, insufficient, or excessive, with easy to understand graphs. After recording their meals, users can receive personalized advice about calories, nutrients, meal choices, and how to eat food from the AI FiNC-chan.

3. Over 400 Items on the Meal Image Recognition Feature

The meal image recognition feature, which uses AI and deep learning to recognize food and calculate the calories and nutrients, has been updated to include over 400 items. This will help many users effortlessly keep track of their meals.

In order to provide an app that customers want to continue using, FiNC will continue to prioritize customers and improve FiNC services in response to their feedback.

◆FiNC App Renewal Celebration & Stay Home Support Campaign

To celebrate the renewal of the FiNC app’s home screen, a “Stay Home Support” campaign was launched on the official FiNC Twitter account and within the FiNC app from 04/21/2020 (Tuesday). In this campaign, users have the chance to win prizes useful for staying healthy at home, as well as FiNC points.
